Fundraiser to Honor Teachers of the Year

Communities In Schools Chatham County, a long-standing agency that serves students through a variety of support programs, will hold its annual fundraiser on Sunday, April 23 in and around downtown Siler City.

Entitled "Celebration of Educators," the event will feature all 17 Chatham County Schools Teachers of the Year along with artwork and performances by students. In addition, members of the Mural Society of Siler City will be giving walking tours of the historic murals in Siler City.

Festivities will begin in Siler City on the Downtown Rotary Stage at the NC Arts Incubator at 4 p.m. Dinner will be served across the street from the stage at the beautiful Peppercorn Restaurant located at 138 N. Chatham Street at 6 p.m.

Poetry Water

BY LOU LIPSITZ

Over three years now and no poems. I carry around a bucket full of frozen water from the stream up near Roan Mountain. I heard this is poetry water. But it stays frozen. I carry it down through the woods every day and pace the city streets feeling like an idiot; as if traffic and noise will cause it to melt. Can I leave it in your yard?
