RELIEF PAINTING BY FORREST GREENSLADE

Paintings debut at Siler City Gallery

CCCC metal and ceramic sculpture student and concrete sculpture teacher Forrest Greenslade has introduced a new series of relief paintings called Petrified Forrest in the College's Siler City Gallery.

The CCCC Gallery will also highlight pottery and sculpture by CCCC Exhibit Design students in the show, which opened June 19. Visitors can see Ruth Brown's whimsical clay sculptures, Holly Felice's new clay sculptures, Ruth Morgans' wheel thrown pots, Deborah Motter's new sculptural pieces, Carol Kroll's sculpture fabricated from a home grown gourd, and Trish Welsh's new functional pottery.

CORA program for needy children

This summer CORA Food Pantry will conduct a 10-week pilot nutrition program that will provide pre-packed breakfasts and lunches for 120 needy Chatham County children during this year's summer school break.

The pilot project is designed to evaluate methods of package preparation, distribution methods, storage requirements, and transportation issues. CORA expects to use the knowledge gained from the pilot program to expand the SNACK program in future years.

The selection pool comprises children, aged 5 to 17, who qualify for free or reduced school breakfasts and lunches during the school year. The program will run through summer vacation: allowing some flex-time, food may be picked-up from June 12 through August 21, 2009.

Chapel Hill Tire Car Care Center provided a lead gift of $3,000 to get the Summer Nutrition Assistance for Chatham Kids (SNACK) program started. Additional gifts from The Rolander Family Foundation, Women of Ferrington, Kiwanis of Pittsboro and RTI International have provided the rest of the funding for the $10,500 project.

For more information about the SNACK program please contact CORA at 545.3030. To inquire about enrolling a child in the program, contact Dept. of Social Services at 542.2759.

Abrakadoodle offers arts fun

Abrakadoodle, an international arts education company in collaboration with Crayola, offers art education classes, camps, parties and events for children (ages 20 months to 12 years). Children use a wide variety of art media.

Blood Done Sign My Name performance

Playwright and actor Mike Wiley will present a performance based on the violent reprisals following the acquittal of three men for the murder of Henry "Dickie" Marrow in Oxford, NC, the basis for the acclaimed book Blood Done Sign My Name by Tim Tyson. Wiley expands cultural awareness for audiences of all ages through his dynamic portrayals based on pivotal moments in African American history.

The performance on Saturday, July 11 at 7 p.m., will be followed by a reception and meeting with Wiley, and a question and answer session. All Saturday evening tickets are $12. Doors open at 6:30 p.m.

The performance on Sunday, July 12 at 2 p.m. will be followed by a question and answer session. Tickets are $12 for Adults and $6 for students with valid student ID.

Doors open at 1:30 Sunday afternoon.

Admission is restricted to ages 13 and older. Tickets are available at McIntyre's Books in Ferrington Village (542.3030) or online at <http://www.brownpapertickets.com/event/62753>

Charitable fund awards scholarships

The Galloway Ridge Charitable Fund has awarded 14 scholarships out of 21 applications, totaling $9,900, to employees from various departments within Galloway Ridge.

Many employees chose to further their education within their field, and some employees decided to take a new career path to supplement their career at Galloway Ridge, but either way, all of the recipients say that the Fund has made a significant financial contribution towards continuing their education.

Five percent off for PLENTY change
