

Image via Pexels

Downsizing: Here's How to Do It

By: Andrea Needham

<https://www.eldersday.org/>

When you're moving as a senior, you're likely going down in size, and that's a smart move. But it may have been a while since you've gone through the process. Here, we offer quick links to resources that can help you understand the financial aspect of moving in the modern age, how to make room for a smaller home in your life, and what to do once you are there.

Mortgage Questions? Answers Here

The home-buying process has changed since the 1980s. If it has been a while since you purchased the house, here is some information to refresh your memory.

Can You Get a 30-Year Home Loan as a Senior?

Seven Factors That Determine Your Mortgage Interest Rate

Mortgage Help for Veterans

What Are Mortgage Points?

It's Time to Clear Out

Unfortunately, you can't take everything with you, and organization is the key to making your move without the added stress of clutter.

Senior Life: Downsizing as You Age
Storage Units \(Pittsboro Average \$49.43\)
How to Pack Fragile Items: A Professional Mover's Secrets
How Much Does It Cost to Move?

Getting Settled

Once you arrive, it's time to make a new life in your new home.

How to Unpack After Moving
Living Room Layout Ideas: 7 Ways to Make the Most of Your Space
What Is a Village?
Who Pays for Piedmont Health Seniorcare Services?

Buying a home today is very different than it was just a few decades ago. And, if you are a veteran, you have more options than ever. But before you make your move, decide how you're going to send your belongings and know where to turn for help when you need it.